

Coaching Fees

Everyone works towards their goals at different speeds and intensity. Coaching is an investment in YOU and requires a commitment of time, money and energy.

Below you will find my standard fees for individual coaching engagements. At our initial consultation, we can discuss the best option for you and the estimated number of sessions for the project ahead of you.

Individual Sessions: My standard rate is $175 for a coaching session.

Resume/LinkedIn Review: I will review and share feedback/suggestions to improve your resume and LinkedIn profile for $200. This covers work outside of our regular coaching sessions.

The Details

Sessions are 60 minutes long and can be done via phone, video conference or in person in my Brookline Village office. Payment is accepted via check or credit card. You will be billed at time of service.

As part of our partnership, feel free to reach out for email support between calls and/or short phone check ins as needed. I am here to help you reach your goals. Following each session, I will follow up with key resources, tools, activities and connections.

I am open to new creative ideas and am committed to helping you find your way forward. I will try to work within your budget whenever possible.
